

Journal Notes Style (English)

Use dots for the period after the English notes (English writing). If Chinese and English citations are combined, please use Chinese for the period after the English citation notes.

* The order of English annotations citing an author is as follows:

Author, title of article, city name of publisher, publisher, year of publication. page number. See below for an example:

Tooley, Michael. Abortion and Infanticide. New York: Oxford University Press, 1983. p.3.

* See below for examples of annotations citing articles in the English edition:

Tooley, Michael. Abortion and Infanticide. New York: Oxford University Press, 1983.

———“In Defense of Abortion and Infanticide.” In The Problem of Abortion. Edited by Joel Feinberg. Belmont, Calif.: Wadsworth, 1973.

* Example of citing an English translation:

Tocqueville, Alexis de. Democracy in America. Edited by J. P. Mayer. Translated by George Lawrence. New York: Doubleday/Anchor, 1969.

* Styles for citing notes from English academic journals:

Donceel, Joseph. “Immediate Animation and Delayed Humanization.” Theological Studies 31, No. 1 (1970): 76-105.